THE STATE PRISON.

VISIT OF GOVERNOR AND COUNCIL TO STATE PRISON AT THOMASTON—THE CONVICTS.

The Governor and Council inspected the State Prison a few days since, and gave an opportunity to all convicts who desired to make any representations to them, to do so. Many of the facts presented and incidents that transpired are reported in the Lewiston Journal and will be found of interest to our readers.

There are now 142 convicts in the prison—more than half of whom were sentenced for larceny and robbery, 14 for murder, and 10 for life for rape, arson and burglary. The fourteen murderers are as follows:

William D Blake, Camden, committed for murder in 1863 and sentence subsequently commuted to imprisonment for life, age 50; occupation in prison "carriage trimmer," in which position he makes himself very useful

Howard A. Cleveland, Bangor, committed September 20th, 1869, and sentence never commuted on account of alleged point raised which was thought to render it inexpedient to do so; age 28, occupation in prison "wheelwright."

Patrick Griffin, Lewiston, committed under the old law, August 27th, 1865, for murder of his wife, and sentence never commuted; age 50; occupation "cook." Griffin appeared before the Governor and Council, and represented that he and his wife were addicted to the use of liquor and often quarrelled, and that the murder was committed in a drunken quarrel.

Ephraim Gilman, Denmark, convicted for murder in 1863, under the old law, and sentence never commuted, age 35; occupation "wheelwright."

George Knight, Poland, committed in 1857, for murder of his wife, and sentence never commuted, age 57, occupation "blacksmith." Knight continues to protest his innocence, and seems to still indulge hope of a pardon.

Charles H. Keene, Cumberland, committed in 1867 for murder, and sentence commuted; age 32, occupation "tailor."

John F Lawrence, Penobscot, committed in 1870 for murder, and sentence commuted; age 36, occupation "carriage trimmer."

Bernard Little, Knox, committed for life in 1870 for murder, age 35, occupation "washer."

Joel C. Preble, Auburn, committed in 1861 under the old law, for murder of his wife, and sentence never commuted; age 42, occupation "blacksmith"

Charles Wilkinson, York, committed for life, in 1867 for murder, age 28; occupation "wheelwright."

Joseph D Smith, Veazie committed for murder in 1872 and sentence commuted, age 22, occupation "harness-maker."

Louis H. F. Wagner, York, committed Sept 24th, 1873, for murder of two women of Kittery, age 30; occupation "harness-maker." Wagner protests his innocence, but writes his friends that he expects to be hung at the end of the year. He came before the Governor and Council and repeated in detail substantially the story which he told at the trial.

John T. Gordon, Thorndike, committed Jan. 21st, 1874, for murder of his brother, wife and children, age 29; occupation "shoemaker."

James M Lowell, Lewiston, committed May 23d, 1874; age 31, occupation to which he has been assigned in the prison, "painter." Lowell seems much broken since he was sent to Thomaston.

The Warden testifies that the convicts sentenced for murder are among the most tractable and industrious in the prison and scarcely one of them would be selected by the visitor as capable of a deed of blood.

In addition to the above there are now in prison John Coulon, Knox sentenced ten years in 1871 for an assault with intent to kill, Edward H. Hoswell, Augusta, sentenced to nine years in 1870 for manslaughter, Edward S. Kerby, Washington, sentenced to seven years in 1872 for manslaughter; William Logan, Cumberland sentenced to six years in 1870 for manslaughter; Luther Smith, York, sentenced to ten years in 1872 for manslaughter; and James Harkins, Cumberland, sentenced to nine years in 1874 for assault with intent to kill. The following persons are serving a life sentence. W. E. Cunningham, Edward A. Wright and Eber Dodge for rape in the town of Jefferson in 1870; Rufus Littlefield, York; S. L. McDonald, Kennebec; and Patrick H McClusky, Oxford, all for rape, also, John Downes, Washington, and Albert Keeney, Piscataquis, for burglary.

One of the convicts, Nathan Richards, is serving his seventh sentence; two their fourth sentence; fourteen, their second sentence, and 127 their first sentence. Contrary to general belief, only one in ten of the persons sentenced to State Prison ever commit another crime for which they are sentenced the second time. About eight out of ten convicts committed their crimes directly or indirectly under the influence of intoxicating liquors. A very large proportion of the convicts cannot read or write. Only five per cent of them had any trade when they committed the crime for which they were sentenced, showing that one of the greatest safeguards against vice and crime is the possession of a trade which will keep young men out of idleness, the parent of crime. Of 142 convicts in the State Prison, only three are women—Ida May Hall of Woodland, for adultery, Addie B. Pillsbury, Auburn, for taking possession of a house and setting up housekeeping without consent of the owner; and Almeda E. Brown of Frankfort, for stealing a horse and wagon with which she and her newly-made husband took their wedding trip. The presence of so few women in the State Prison speaks well for the morals of the gentler sex. These women are kept in a room by themselves, and do the mending of the Prison.

The Bowdoinham Bank robbers—Bartlett, Simms and Maguire, who were sentenced in 1868 for fifteen years, and the Rockland bank robbers—Moore sentenced for seven years in 1870, and Litchfield sentenced for 4 years in 1871, are among the most intelligent convicts in the prison. Bartlett works in the paint-shop, Simms, Moore and Litchfield in the carriage shop, and Maguire in the shoe-shop; and they all attend to their duties very satisfactorily. Maguire has always protested his innocence, and has written several letters earnestly urging a pardon and declaring that he knew nothing of the robbery, and that the evidence against him ought not to have convicted him. His appearance is decidedly in his favor. Simms and Bartlett have made several attempts to escape. They are cool, shrewd and uncomplaining, and while they do not admit their guilt, yet do not deny it. They both say that they do not ask for or expect any abbreviation of their sentences, but shall escape if they can. They admit that they have been repeatedly in other State Prisons, but have always managed to escape. They say that when they get out they shall give the State of Maine a wide berth. Moore, is perhaps the most cultivated man in the prison. His cell is decorated with pictures, and he reads and writes much. He and also a small cage in which he keeps a mouse caught in his cell. The mouse is tame, and when he returns from his work at night, he opens the door of the cage and allows the mouse to run over him, and he amuses him and sport by his side at night. Moore seems to entertain much affection for the mouse, and the animal appears to reciprocate the attachment. John Rogers, the Brunswick cashier, whose sentence does not expire till 1877, is employed in the Hospital

No one can visit the State Prison without realizing, as he never did before, the responsibility imposed upon Warden Rice, and congratulating himself that so efficient, vigilant, energetic and humane a man as the present warden, is in charge. It requires executive abilities of the highest order to maintain subordination and prevent the escape of 142 men, each of whom is watching for an opportunity to obtain his liberty. And yet with all the sternness of his discipline, Warden Rice manages to secure and retain the friendship and even love of the convicts. And then in order to make the labor exacted from 142 convict apprentices (for nearly all are apprentices, learning trades) meet the running expenses of the Prison, requires a high order of business talent. The people of Maine may well congratulate themselves on the success of their State Prison

THE WESTERN UNION.

The following is the report of President Orton of the Western Union Telegraph Company, handed in Thursday at a meeting of the directors. The net profits of the company for the eight years commencing July 1st 1866 and ending June 30 1874 those for the present month of June being estimated, are $23,077,... of this sum there has been distributed in dividends to stockholders $4,857,231 34; disbursed for interest on the company's bonds, $2,630 749 98; total $7,387,980.82. The balance, $15,689,079 01, is represented as follows:—

Paid for the construction of new lines and the erection of additional wires	$4,910,963 53
Paid for the stocks of companies leased to the Western Union to an annual rental	770,238 05
Western Union stock (72 877 shares)	4,054,455 07
Gold and Telegraph Company's stock (47,716 shares)	1,173,509 00
International Ocean do. do. (10 381 shares)	561,... 2
Pacific and Atlantic do do. (56,6.. shares)	[illegible]
Anglo-American do. do. £ 386	19,00..
Western Electric Manufacturing Company's stock (500 shares)	[illegible]
Western Union bonds redeemed and cancelled	[illegible]
Western Union Broadway and Dey street sinking fund	60,000
Real estate (exclusive of Broadway and Dey street)	[illegible]
Patent (the Page and Duplex telegraph)	[illegible]
Cable steamer	12,65..
Western Union bonds not cancelled ($75000)	[illegible]
Fractional share fund issue, redeemed and cancelled	[illegible]
Total	$11,...
Leaving a balance of net profits, $1,... $98,216 89, represented as follows
Cash on hand, and due from agents	4,500,...
Call loans	400,0..
Ad vanced on account of the new building Broadway and Dey street in excess of the building mortgage bonds	370,3..
Poles, wire and other material and supplies on hand	4,3.., ...
Total	$10,6.., ...

Of this sum $1,400,000 is the net profit for the six months ending June 30th instant, about $74,000 being the net profit of April, May and June. This is an increase of more than $250,000 over the net profits of the same three months last year (1873). In view of the large reduction in rates throughout the South and West, which took effect on the first of July, 1873, and of the universal depression in most kinds of business which followed the financial panic of September last, such a result is most gratifying, and seems to furnish grounds for the belief that, as the general business of the country improves, the receipts and profits of the company will continue to increase. The executive committee have had under consideration for some time past the subject of a disposition of the unappropriated profits above stated.—They were at first inclined to recommend a dividend equal to the net earnings of the current six months, which would be about four per cent. on the capital outstanding; to do this, however, would necessitate either the funding of the amounts expended for construction, and on the new building in excess of the loan made for that purpose, or the sale of a portion of the company's stock now in the treasury. On mature deliberation, it is deemed advisable to do neither, but to limit the dividend to the profits of the current quarter. This course they have unanimously instructed me to recommend to the board, and in pursuance I submit the following preamble and resolutions:—

Whereas, the business and financial condition of the company justify the resumption of regular dividends to the stockholders which, in the judgment of this board, should be made quarterly, therefore,—

Resolved, That a dividend of two per cent, from the net earnings of three months ending June 30 be and the same is hereby declared payable on the 15th day of July next.

Resolved, That for the purpose of such dividend, the stock books be closed at the close of business on the 25th inst., and be opened on the morning of the 16th of July.

CHANGING CLOTHING.—Health, and sometimes life itself, is often lost by laying aside winter clothing too early. Laying flannels aside in the spring is a most pernicious practice. We can better do without woolens next the skin in mid-winter than in summer. We do not get overheated in winter—we do in summer; and the most frequent exciting cause of coughs, colds and consumption is a rapid falling of the temperature of the body. All are familiar with the fact that a sudden checking of perspiration is always dangerous; very little exercise causes us to perspire in summer, and a very slight draft of air checks the perspiration; hence, eminent French physicians have stated, after a long series of observations, that colds taken in summer excite the most incurable forms of consumption.

White woolen flannel is a most effective guard against these sudden changes, because it keeps the heat of the body in, while it repels the excessive heat from without, it conveys the water of perspiration to its outside, while the surface next the skin is drier. We all know that silk, cotton and linen, &c., the skin get saturated with water, and if for an instant the slightest draft of air gets between the skin and the material, there is a charnel like chill when that material touches the skin.

The rule should be to wear white woolen flannel next the skin all the year round—thick in winter, a little thinner in April, a gauze material on the first day of July; on the first day of December put on the thickest, extending to ankles and wrists.

These rules are especially necessary to old people, to all invalids and young children, day laborers and out door workers would be incalculably benefitted by the same observances.

Republican State Convention.

The Republicans of Maine are invited to send delegates to a State Convention to be holden in

Granite Hall, Augusta,

Thursday, June 18, 1874, at 11 o'clock, A. M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor, and transacting any other business that may properly come before the Convention.

The basis of representation will be as follows:—

Each city, town and plantation will be entitled to one delegate and an additional for every 75 votes for the Republican candidate for Governor in 1873. A fraction of 40 votes, additional to the full number for a delegate, is also entitled to a delegate.

Delegates are authorized to fill vacancies only with actual residents of the county to which the town belongs.

The State Committee will be in session at 10 o'clock the morning of the Convention for the reception of credentials.

JAMES G. BLAINE, Kennebec, Chairman.
WILLIAM P. FRYE, Androscoggin.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

It is proper that we should remind our readers of the near approach of the Republican State Convention which is summoned to assemble at Augusta one week from Thursday next. The call published elsewhere gives the basis of representation by delegates, and there are many reasons for desiring a full attendance from all sections of the State. It is true that there are no exciting local issues to be discussed, and that public interest has not been stimulated by the anticipation of a contest for rival candidates, but this very absence of excitement renders it specially desirable that a full and harmonious Convention should take measures to counteract the tendencies of apathy and send forth such a vigorous declaration of the attitude of Maine Republicans upon the leading questions of the day as will inspire renewed confidence and zeal on the part of the people. It should be remembered that the lack of political excitement is itself an evidence of the universal satisfaction with the manner in which the affairs of the State have been conducted under a Republican administration, and that good government can only be maintained by attention on the part of the people to political duties in quiet times as well as in seasons of special enthusiasm. A year ago the Republican Convention of Maine sounded from Norumbega Hall the key note of that popular demand for the reform of abuses which was echoed from State to State throughout the Union, and which compelled the recognition of Congress. Good work has already been accomplished in putting down corruption and raising the standard of the public service, but work still remains to be done in vindication of the purpose of the Republican party to cast out whatever is wrong and encourage whatever is right in the administration of national affairs. Another opportunity will be afforded this year for the Republicans of Maine to take advanced ground upon the pending and impending issues and to put forth what should express the sentiments of a full Convention of the best men of the party.

The first duty of the Convention—that of nominating a candidate for Governor—will be performed without discussion or controversy. The acceptable manner in which Governor Dingley has discharged the duties of his office will undoubtedly receive the marked endorsement of a unanimous renomination, and this action is morally certain to be ratified by a handsome majority at the polls in September. There is not the slightest danger to be apprehended from the efforts of the Democracy if the Republicans of the State simply perform their duties, and the main thing to guard against will be that tendency toward over-confidence among our voters which leads to a neglect of the important duty of voting. The Democrats are so utterly without a single element of cohesion and are unable to raise any issue upon which to make a fight in the State campaign. A desperate effort was made by their leaders during the session of the last Legislature, to make political capital out of an assault upon the management of the State Prison and the old issues promised were to be made the basis of this year's campaign. An investigation was demanded with a great flourish of trumpets by the Republican Legislature promptly granted the accusers with full power to investigate. They were afforded every facility by the Republicans, and after expending some hundreds of dollars of the public money the Committee unanimously reported that the complaints were unfounded, while the Democratic leader in the House felt called upon to pay a high tribute to the services of the Warden and the efficiency of the Prison management. This was the result of the only serious attempt to impeach the administration of State affairs under Republican rule and with its failure the Democracy retreated to its entire. Finding that investigation only established more plainly the title of the Republican party to the confidence of the people.

Another fact which renders it important that our State Convention should be fully attended is the occurrence of elections for members of Congress this year. These members are to be chosen by the same constituency which will be represented at the State Convention, and it is desirable that the action of that central body should be such as to strengthen the Congressional vote. Our State has every reason to be proud of its representation in Congress, and with nothing to be settled the State Convention will heartily applaud the course pursued by our delegation upon all the important issues that have arisen. We wish Maine to continue to have the credit so long enjoyed of being one of the best represented States in the Union, and a powerful concentration of public sentiment at Augusta on the 18th inst., can accomplish much toward increasing the majorities of our Congressional candidates. With a sound, candid progressive platform, emanating from a full representation of the Republican sentiment of the State and with worthy candidates for Governor and for Congress, we may count safely upon that popular support which has hitherto bestowed such a glorious and unbroken series of political triumphs.

Hon. S. F. HERSEY. A gentleman in this city received a very cheerful letter from General Hersey last evening, in which he assured his friends that his symptoms were much improved and his confidence in the recovery of his health unimpaired. His physicians have recommended a brief visit to the sea-shore, and it was his intention to go to Atlantic City, N. J., Tuesday, (to-day) where he will remain two weeks if the climate proves favorable to his case. It is his intention to come directly to Bangor on leaving the seaside. We were much pleased to note the cheerful and confident tone of the General's letter, and again assure him that all good tidings of his convalescence are cordially welcomed by his hosts of friends in the Penobscot Valley.

THE INSANE ASYLUM.

BANGOR, June 8, 1874.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier —

The Insane Asylum is one of the most, if not the most, important of the institutions of the State, and has now some four hundred patients, about equally divided between male and female.

One of the most singular things that the last Legislature did was to pass an act abolishing the Board of Trustees and all the officers of the institution. When the proper time came for the Governor to act he re-appointed the old Board of Trustees, and left it for them to re-appoint the Faculty. They did re-appoint Dr. Harlow, the old, faithful Superintendent, and Dr. Sanborn, one of his faithful assistants, but failed to re-appoint Miss Meserrey, a faithful, scientific and highly-educated physician, who, with the more than two hundred female patients in the hospital, was no less desirable or necessary, in fact, than the other members of the faculty.

I learn that the Trustees are soon to have a meeting, and I know it to be a fact that there are hundreds of the friends of the Asylum who are anxious for its prosperity and well being of the inmates, that expect Miss Meserrey will then have her place.

It is feared by many of the friends of the Asylum that with the two hundred female inmates the Trustees do not fully realize the importance of an educated female physician as one of the faculty, whose sympathy and science will dictate a thousand kind acts among the females that tend to promote their happiness and restoration that a male physician would never dream of. I have known somewhat of the workings of the Asylum for years, and therefore it is that I am interested in its prosperity.

Mary Ann Vanderburg was fatally burned while kindling a fire with coal oil in Cincinnati. Her father, mother and husband were badly burned while tearing her burning clothes off.

A DRUNKEN EARL MISSING. A London despatch states that the Earl of Yarborough is missing, and the police are searching for him. It is stated that he is addicted to drink, and last Tuesday the Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Lords, believing him to be in a worse condition than usual, coaxed him into a private room and left him there. Upon the return of the officer to the room, half an hour later, the Earl was gone, and has not since been seen. The London journals referred to the unexplained absence from the city of the Earl whose name they withheld. He was last seen in the House of Lords Tuesday, the 2d inst.

THE GRASSHOPPER PLAGUE. Among the cheerful accounts that are sent to Western papers of crop prospects in that region there is a frequent presentation of a shadow in the picture, which shadow is cast by "a cloud of locusts," or more literally by the havoc made in certain localities by countless numbers of grasshoppers. Congress has already had the subject before it in a proposition to allow settlers in Minnesota to forsake their lands for a year without prejudice to their titles. The general impression in that State is that the destruction of crops there this season is inevitable. In Iowa, or at least in sections of the State, the case is almost as bad, and a correspondent of the Chicago Inter Ocean gives it as his opinion that in the township of Sac City, where he resides, there will not be fifty bushels of wheat, oats and corn raised this year. He says that he heard the heaviest land owner in Sac county say that his would sell 400 acres of wheat for what the seed cost him. This correspondent complains that facts like these are kept back by the land owners, who say, "Don't say anything about it, as it will stop immigration." The land owner alluded to, two hours after he made the remark quoted, took an immigrant over his property to sell him some land, and when the immigrant asked what caused the barren strip around the wheat, the owner told him he left it so in order that his herders could easily keep his stock off his wheat.

JOHN BRIGHT ON TEMPERANCE. Mr. Bright has been delivering a speech at a temperance meeting upon the appeals made to him in favor of Parliamentary action. He declared that such action was entirely out of the question in the present state of things. He had recently been invited to take a drink of whisky by a minister of the Episcopal Church, who said that he objected to the custom as he (Mr. Bright) did; but were he to refuse to offer it to his friends he would be stigmatized as mean and unsocial. Drinking customs in Great Britain are well nigh universal. "Wines," said Mr. Bright, "must be upon our tables to ornament them, and form the staple of the conversation, which was about their qualities and prices." He believed that if Parliament were to pass such laws as those proposed by the friends of temperance legislation, the very next week they would have to repeal them, and the whole city of London would be in riot, revolt and insurrection. He had no faith that anything could be done until the religious people of England were unanimous in support of temperance customs and of such measures of reform as should naturally grow out of that unanimity. As to his own conduct, he had not bought any wine or spirituous liquors since he went to housekeeping, in 1839.

A car load of prairie hay has been sent from Chicago to Liverpool, where an effort is to be made to use it for paper stock, instead of the Spanish grass, the available supply of which is diminished by the civil war in that country.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

SOME WOMEN'S HEARTS, by Louise Chandler Moulton. This volume is made up of eight short stories full of tender pathos and breathing a far healthier influence than many of the nineteenth century novels. The author is a graceful writer and has scarcely a fault in her choice of language. Many of the sentences in this book have a rythmic beauty that is rarely found in works of its class. Roberts Brothers, Publishers, Boston. For sale by D. Bugbee & Co.

SEA AND SHORE. This is a charming little volume, containing a wealth of poetic song which will make many a dull day full of sunshine to the reader. Among the poems there are several which the world will never let die and which add much to the interest of the book. Many lands and languages have contributed to the choice treasures which it contains. Roberts Brothers, Publishers, Boston. For sale by Messrs. D. Bugbee & Co.

VULCANIZED

RUBBER LINED TUBE.

This tube has been tested with entire success for the past three years, and is now placed upon the market with the thorough confidence that it has ever introduced for the passage of natural waters, either hot or cold, fresh or salt, its merits will be acknowledged over either Galvanized Iron or Lead Tubes. The absolute indestructibility of Vulcanized Rubber, also its purity for the purpose for which it is adopted, is so well known that comment is unnecessary.

It is in use by the principal Water and Gas Works throughout the United States, and is especially recommended for the use of Wells, Water and Mill Pipe.

Sold at only a small advance over the price of plain Tube, by

T. T. CATES,

2 Pickering Square, Over the Bangor Gas Company's Office,

THE HENRY F. MILLER

NEW SQUARE

Grand Piano.

The success of the Henry F. Miller pianoforte establishment in Boston is one of the marvels in the history of the piano trade. The new square grand, recently introduced, the demand for which is constantly increasing, has already taken a foremost place among the most popular pianos, and is sought for by lovers of a first-class piano. It has three unisons on the treble, and the agraffe throughout the entire scale, producing a massive tone, round and rich in quality, the style of the instrument itself is superb, rendering it the queen of musical instruments. In this connection, we notice that one of these superb instruments has recently been purchased for use in the new High School at Somerville. Considering the pains taken by the School Committee to secure the best piano in the market, the adoption of one of the Henry F. Miller square grands, although costing $800 is not only a high compliment to that establishment, but shows the good judgement of the committee. A similar piano has also been furnished for the use of the High School at Grafton, in this State. During the past week, several of these instruments have been sent to San Francisco and to Helena, in Montana Territory, over 400 miles from the nearest railroad point, necessitating their transportation by ox teams. The new square grand is attracting extraordinary attention, and adds greatly to the reputation which the Henry F. Miller pianos have everywhere heretofore enjoyed, subjected as they are to the severest tests, and generally used and recommended by most of the leading musicians of Boston and vicinity.

MUSICAL.—Malden has one of the best high schools in the State, and the School Committee, in obedience to a vote of the town at the last annual town meeting, have just purchased a splendid square grand piano for the use of the school. The committee carefully examined all the first-class instruments of the eading manufacturers and between the Steinway, Chickering and Henry F. Miller productions, selected one of the latter costing $800. Judges say that this grand square piano is one of the finest instruments of the kind in Malden. Certain it is that all the pupils of the high school are in love with it. It was only a few weeks ago that the Somerville high school was provided with a Henry F. Miller grand square.

Standard Remedies!

The standard remedies for all diseases of the lungs are Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Schenck's Sea-weed Tonic, and Schenck's Mandrake Pills, and if taken before the lungs are destroyed, a speedy cure is effected.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary diseases.

The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe, a slight cough will throw it off, the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To enable the Pulmonic Syrup to do this, Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Schenck's Sea-weed Tonic must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver. Schenck's Mandrake Pills act on the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, the alkali of which it is composed mixes with the food and prevents souring. It assists the digestion, by toning up the stomach to a healthy condition, so that the food and Pulmonic Syrup will make good blood; then the lungs heal, and the patient will surely get well if care is taken to prevent fresh cold.

Dr. Schenck can be consulted at the Quincy House, Boston, on Wednesday, March 18th, April 8th and 22nd, May 13th and 27th.

Advice will be given free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer, the charge is $5.00.

Schenck's Medicines are sold by all Druggists throughout the country.

Schenck's Almanac can be had of all Druggists, free.

A bill was passed authorizing [illegible] commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the first meeting of the Continental Congress and of the Declaration of Independence.

A bill was passed incorporating the Presbyterian church at Salt Lake.

The reports of the Conference [illegible] consolidating the pension laws, and a bill increasing pensions of soldiers totally disabled, were made.

At the expiration of the morning hour unfinished business came up. [illegible] provide for the sale of extra copies of documents and for their distribution [illegible].

Mr. Merrimon offered an amendment authorizing Senators and members [illegible] documents now apportioned to them.

Mr. Anthony expressed a hope the amendment would be made [illegible] position.

Some discussion ensued [illegible] and Mr. Sherman [illegible] the bill could not be passed without [illegible] he therefore moved that it be laid [illegible] the Senate proceed to the consideration of the bill to amend the customs [illegible] and to repeal moieties.

Mr. Sherman's motion was agreed to, the moiety bill taken up.

Mr. Bayard objected to the amendment of the Finance Committee inserted [illegible] section which authorizes the U. S. [illegible] to examine the books, invoices [illegible] the defendants. He said the [illegible] been collected down to 1863 without [illegible] provision of this kind, and in his opinion it [illegible] the constitutional rights of [illegible] compel him to criminate himself.

Mr. Sherman urged the provision as vital. The amendment was rejected. A long discussion [illegible] the bill following, which the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Bills were introduced and referred, [illegible] by Mr. Starkweather [illegible] the revenue, and restraining gambling [illegible] a tax of one-half cent on all sales of stocks, bonds, [illegible].

Mr. Butler moved to refer the bill to the Judiciary Committee with right to report at any time. Lost, two-thirds voting in favor.

Mr. Chaffee moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill for the admission of Colorado as a State. Passed—yeas 170, nays [illegible].

Mr. [illegible] of Ohio, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported a bill [illegible] to suspend the [illegible] passed. [illegible] proposes to [illegible] rank and file who served faithfully in the army, including those borne on [illegible] one-third dollar [illegible] for the whole time of service. The House refused to second the [illegible] rules by [illegible].

The House then took up the contested election case of Sheridan vs. Pinchback.

The majority report is that the [illegible] not sufficient to establish the right of Pinchback or Sheridan, and that it be remitted to take further testimony. The minority report, signed by Lamar and Speer, is that Sheridan was [illegible] beck was not elected a member [illegible] state at large. Speeches were made [illegible] of the majority report by Messrs. [illegible] and Snyder of La., and against [illegible] Lamar of Mississippi. The latter [illegible] his belief that the interests of the Republican party were not identified with the maintenance of the so-called government [illegible] in the Southern States. Congress had passed constitutional measures and had succeeded [illegible] to the heart and soul of the people, but the [illegible] the Southern people was that the [illegible] of the right of withdrawing from the Union [illegible] extinguished [illegible] eliminated from the [illegible] system and no longer constituted one of the elements of American government. The institution of slavery with all its accidents was dead, extinct, sunk in a grave which never gives up its dead, and of the South did not ask for its resurrection. The enlightened people of the South felt that they could identify the interests of the country with an institution which was utterly antagonistic to all the elements of the ruling force of modern civilization. They regarded the three last amendments of the Constitution as inviolable and [illegible] the articles that were written by [illegible] fathers.

Lamar's speech was listened to with marked attention by the members on both sides, who formed a circle around him as he was speaking.

The discussion closed with speeches from the two contestants, Sheridan and Pinchback. The latter interested and amused the House with a discursive description of the election, which he declared was [illegible] a fraud.

Mr. Darrell of Louisiana moved to substitute for the majority resolution a resolution that Pinchback is entitled to his seat prima facie. The question was [illegible] to be voted on to-morrow.

Mr. Rusk of Wisconsin presented the conference reports on the bill to revise the pensions laws and the bill regulating [illegible] for total disabilities which was agreed to.

FORTY-THIRD CONGRESS

First Session.

WASHINGTON, June 8

SENATE

A bill was passed authorizing medals in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the first meeting of the Continental Congress and of the Declaration of Independence

A bill was passed incorporating the 1st Presbyterian church at Salt Lake city

The reports of the Conference Committees on consolidating the pension laws and on the bill increasing pensions of soldiers and sailors totally disabled, were made and agreed to.

At the expiration of the morning hour the unfinished business came up, being a bill to provide for the sale of extra copies of public documents and for the distribution of regular ... editions thereof

Mr Merrimon offered an amendment authorizing Senators and members to frank the documents now apportioned to them by law

Mr Anthony expressed a hope that this amendment would be made a separate proposition

Some discussion ensued on the amendment and Mr. Sherman said it was evident that the bill could not be passed without debate, and he therefore moved that it be laid aside and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the bill to amend the customs revenue laws and to repeal moieties

Mr Sherman's motion was agreed to and the moiety bill taken up

Mr Bayard objected to the amendment of the Finance Committee inserted as the 5th section which authorizes the U. S. Attorney to examine the books, invoices or papers of defendants He said the revenue had been collected down to 1863 without any provision of this kind, and in his opinion it was ... the constitutional rights of citizens to compel him to criminate himself

Mr Sherman argued the provision was of ... importance It did not impair the rights of citizens, neither did it compel him to criminate himself, but only protected the Government. Jackson S Schultz and other intelligent merchants of New York had expressed to Committee that they were not opposed to this provision, surrounded as it was with all guards for the protection of their interests.

Mr Cameron said the idea of seizing the books and papers of a merchant was horrible, and he would not vote for any such proposition. He referred to the case of Phelps, Dodge & Co., and defended the character of Dodge He said he was robbed of hundreds of thousands of dollars by a pump.

Mr Wright advocated the amendment and said the bill would be of no use without it. It prevented any unnecessary or improper prosecution of the merchant as the books were not to be produced without an order from the court The trouble now was that in consequence of the feeling against informers Congress might go to the other extreme and the result would be that the Government would be defrauded of more revenue than heretofore

The amendment was rejected 21 to 26

A long discussion on the bill followed, pending which the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Bills were introduced and referred, including the following by Mr Starkweather, to increase the revenue, and restrain stock gambling, imposing a tax of one-half of one per cent on all sales of stocks, bonds, etc

Mr Butler moved to refer the civil rights bill to the Judiciary Committee with the right to report at any time. Lost, not two-thirds voting in favor.

Mr Chaffee moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill for the admission of Colorado as a State Passed—yeas 170, nays 65

Mr Gunckel of Ohio, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported a bill relative to ..., and moved to suspend the rules and pass it. The bill proposes to pay to all of rank and file who served faithfully in the army, including those borne on the rolls as slaves, eight and one third dollars a month for the whole time of service The House refused to second the motion to suspend the rules by 80 to 74

The House then took up the Louisiana contested election case of Sheridan and Pinchbeck

The majority report is that the evidence is not sufficient to establish the right of either Pinchbeck or Sheridan, and that they be permitted to take further testimony. The minority report, signed by Lamar, Crossland and Speer, is that Sheridan was and Pinchbeck was not elected a member from the state at large Speeches were made in favor of the majority report by Messrs. Smith of N Y and Sypher of La, and against it by Lamar of Mississippi. The latter declared his belief that the interests of the great Republican party were not identified with the maintenance of the so-called government in Louisiana, or of the kindred establishments in the Southern States. No party could endure the infamy and disgrace that has been brought upon the American name by those grotesque caricatures of the government. The result of the war had been to establish indissolubility of the American Union and universality of freedom of speech in American continent, but the North was not satisfied with that. Congress had passed the reconstruction measures and had sunk the iron deep into the heart and soul of the Southern people, but the position of the Southern people was that the doctrine of secession, the right of withdrawing from the Union, was extinguished and eliminated from the American system and no longer constituted a part of the elements of American government The institution of slavery with all its incidents was dead, extinct, sunk in that sea which never gives up its dead, and the people of the South did not ask for its resuscitation. The enlightened people of the South would ... if they could identify the interests of the country with an institution which stood utterly antagonistic to all the elements and living force of modern civilization [Applause] They regarded the three last amendments of the Constitution as inviolable and sacred as the articles that were written by their forefathers.

Lamar's speech was listened to with close attention by the members on both sides, who formed a circle around him while he was speaking.

The discussion closed with speeches from the two contestants, Sheridan and Pinchback The latter interested and amused the House with a discursive description of the Louisiana election, which he declared was in all respects a fraud.

Mr Durrell of Louisiana moved as a substitute for the minority resolutions a resolution that Pinchback is entitled to the seat prima facie. The question was passed over to be voted on to morrow

Mr Rusk of Wisconsin presented the conference reports on the bill to revise the pension laws and the bill regulating pensions for total disabilities which was agreed to.

The House at 7 o'clock adjourned.

NEW YORK STATE.

TERRIBLE RAIN WIND STORM—A NUMBER OF LIVES LOST.

SYRACUSE, June 8 The elements had a literal war yesterday, and a large number of buildings were unroofed, chimneys blown down, and trees uprooted, while the water descended as though the flood gates of Heaven had opened.

The storm on Onondaga Lake was terrible It is reported that several lives were lost. A party of six men were out in the sailboat Challenge, and seeing the storm coming they attempted to go ashore, but the gale struck them and the sails were torn into shreds, and the boat capsized when about a quarter of a mile from the shore. They finally succeeded in landing safely after making great efforts. The same party say they saw a boat containing an old man and two young ladies capsized. The ladies were lost. A young man was also drowned. A number of boats were picked up empty on the west point of the lake, and the probability is that the bodies of those who might have been drowned, will be found there when they come to the surface.

LATER.

The reported disasters on Onondaga Lake are discredited as the storm did not reach there.

TRACKS WASHED AWAY.

BEECHER ON THE ORIGINAL SIN

Mr Beecher is reported as saying that the story of the Garden of Eden was a parable, and the view that we are held to eternal penalty for what Adam and Eve did, is so contradictory of God's justice that no man should regard it but with repugnance The men, too, he said, who believe the world was made in six days are brothers of Egyptian mummies, and the mummies are the best men of the two in a letter to the Tribune, says. "If Congress adjourns leaving the country in the wretched financial condition they found it, the places which now know them will be hereafter unknown to most of them forever." He thinks the Presidential manifesto reflects credit upon his wisdom and courage, but says he makes a mistake in recommending the issue only of bills of not less than ten dollars, as the experience of New York State proved such a system some years ago, when small bills were found a positive convenience and a necessity.

THE MOIETY LAWS

The Chamber of Commerce have appointed Jackson Schultz, A. A. Low, S. D Babcock, S B Chittenden, John D Jones and a number of other prominent merchants as a committee to proceed to Washington to urge the Senate to pass the bill repealing the moiety laws.

THE KIDNAPPING CASE

The Brooklyn authorities have decided to send the boy Fred English, who states that he was kidnapped and taken to Boston, to that city in company with two detectives who will endeavor to find where he was imprisoned

VARIOUS MATTERS

The thermometer reached 91° to-day in the shade

The revised estimates for the salaries and expenses of the various departments of New York city aggregate about sixteen and a half millions

Five thousand Brooklynites were swindled into the purchase of tickets for a bogus excursion to New Haven, Sunday, by a party calling themselves May, Jukes & Son.

Kate Stoddard was thrown into maniacal paroxysms by the presence in her immediate vicinity in King's county Jail of Mrs Dwyer, the demented woman who killed her children, and is seriously ill.

PENNSYLVANIA.

INCENDIARY FIREMEN.

WILLIAMSPORT, June 8. Five members of the volunteer fire department of this place have been arrested on suspicion, as incendiaries. They confessed burning nearly all the property, amounting to over a million dollars, destroyed here since the great fire in August.

WASHINGTON.

A NEW FINANCE BILL.

NEW YORK, June 8 A Washington special says that the conference has agreed upon a bill substantially as already announced, embodying free banking, the abolition of reserves on circulation, except five per cent. to be kept at the Treasury, the retirement of greenbacks at the rate of 35½ per cent. of the amount of new national bank notes issued, and the redemption in gold or five per cent. bonds Jan 1st, 1878

The committee think that the President will sign such a bill. Some of the ablest financiers in Washington are of the opinion that the passage of such a bill instead of causing expansion of the circulating medium would produce violent contraction of national bank currency.

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL CAUCUS.

A joint caucus of the Republicans of both houses will be held Monday night in the hall of the House of Representatives The purpose of the caucus is to appoint a new Congressional Committee and to make arrangements for the fall campaign. The advanced inflationists will endeavor to secure the adoption of a resolution declaring that "the finances is not a party question, and that Republicans may act in accordance with their individual views. It is almost certain, however, that such a resolution could not be adopted.

THE NEW YORK PAPERS ON THE PRESIDENT'S FINANCIAL VIEWS

Editorials in the Tribune and Herald praise Grant without stint for his bold financial utterance

The Tribune says: "In the six years of his Presidency there has been nothing so worthy of the author of the Vicksburg campaign as the memorandum to Senator Jones. No bolder, more comprehensive, more practical, or more effectual plan of resumption has yet seen the light in this country."

The Herald says "It is alike remarkable, whether we consider the combined soundness and boldness of its monetary doctrines, the peculiar manner in which he has made them public, or the political consequences with which they may be fraught. In our judgment, not only are the monetary views of the President admirably sound, but their publication in this peculiar way is justifiable, or at least excusable, and their effect will be salutary even for the Republican party unless the inflation leaders are mad enough to break with him and disrupt the organization.

SAWYER'S SUCCESSOR.

The Times' special says it is reported that the President will nominate Thos. C. Cox, of Georgetown, D. C., for First Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, in the place of Sawyer.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

THE NEW CABLE.

PORTSMOUTH, June 8. A pilot boat reports that the Faraday is laying off the shoals, and will come into Portsmouth lower harbor at slack tide. She has successfully laid all her cable and buoyed it off . ...'s ledge. There are no tidings of the other cable steamer, the Ambassador.

LATER—THE FARADAY IN PORT

The Faraday has come into the harbor and lies at one of the Government buoys. She is forty-six hundred tons burthen, and the largest craft ever in these waters, but has plenty of water.

A despatch from London states that the steamer Ambassador, with the Rye end of the cable did not leave England until June 2d, so that she cannot arrive here as soon as was expected, perhaps about the 12th inst.

JOURNAL OF EDUCATION. The Maine Journal of Education, under the editorship of Mr. Albro E. Chase, has been generally improved. As a practical magazine for the use of teachers it has few equals. The contents of the June number are especially valuable.—Published by Brown Thurston, Portland.

THE OVERLAND MONTHLY for June opens with a very interesting sketch under the title "Studies in the Sierra." This is paper No. II and deals with mountain sculpture and theories on the origin of the Yosemite Valley. The successive numbers of the magazine contain something concerning the history and geology of California, and afford its readers many a choice bit of information concerning the famous State. The other portions of the number contain something to interest, please and instruct those who peruse it. John H. Carmany & Co, Publishers, San Francisco.

THE ALDINE. The June number contains four charming views of the beautiful and little-known scenery of Northern Vermont. The full page illustrations of this number are of more than usual excellence, even for the ALDINE, while the literary contents are of greater variety and extent than usual. R. A. Wyndell contributes a fine description of the Corcoran Gallery of Art at Washington and Mrs. A. H. Leonowens, a very interesting sketch of travels in Siam, and Henry Morford a strongly written paper on Boulogne fishing boats and fish-wives. The stories and poetry of the number are equal to the best and contribute their part in making this number one of more than usual excellence. —The seats in the balcony at City Hall are being re numbered.

—Potatoes were scarce and sold for 85 cents per bushel on the market yesterday.

—The grass in the jail yard was cut yesterday, improving the appearance of the lawn very much.

—Mr. McGown, of the Bangor Theological Seminary, will preach at Kingman during the summer.

—There are several slats missing from the railing of Kenduskeag bridge, which, if replaced soon, may save some youngster's life.

—A heavy thunder shower passed over Veazie yesterday afternoon, but did not devote any attention to the dusty streets in this city.

—The Dobsis Club, who are now at Sysladobsis stream, find that the salmon are not very gamy just yet, and there is not much sport in fishing.

—The ladies of Oldtown hold a meeting at the town hall of that place this afternoon. The cause is still progressing under their well-directed efforts.

—It may be news to many municipal officers, but there is no such town officer as "field driver" known or recognized in the statutes of this State.

—We state for the benefit of those who have eagerly sought for Tom Collins, that a person by that name purchased a ticket for San Francisco at the M C depot in this city yesterday.

—A remarkable curiosity, which the proprietors call a petrified Indian, is on exhibition on Central street. The body weighs 1700 lbs, and if the object is what is claimed, the man must have been over eight feet in heighth before he shuffled off, and became a rock.

—A little son of Mr William Mundy, of Vanceboro, was drowned in the lake just above the corporation dam last Thursday. It is supposed that in trying to get on board a scow which was lying at the place of accident, he fell into the water. His body was found under the scow

—Messrs A. W. Wildes, J. F. Anderson and S. H. Blake, Railroad Commissioners, go over the Bangor & Piscataquis road to day, on their annual tour of inspection. Wednesday they will inspect the E. & N. A. Railway, and then will go to Calais to examine the St. Croix & Penobscot road.

—President Allen, of the State College, will address the students of the East Maine Conference Seminary at Bucksport this evening. To-morrow afternoon, the exhibition will occur and the re-union of the old students. Music for the occasion will be furnished by Andrews' orchestra of this city.

—The Eureka Slate Company, of Monroe, have elected the following officers for the ensuing year:—S. A. Patten, President; A. Chapin Vice President; C. W. Folsom, Secretary; A. W. Chapin, Treasurer; F. M. Chapin Agent, A Chapin, A. W. Chapin, W. S. Knowlton, C. Denson and C. A. Miller, Directors.

—Messrs Dole & Fogg are making extensive improvements at their planing and moulding mill on Front street. They have put an addition, thirty-six feet by forty, on the front, and contemplate putting a Mansard roof over the whole structure, thus enlarging their facilities for doing work in their line, nearly one half.

—A party of young men left this city Saturday evening for Hermon Pond, intending to spend the Sabbath in fishing, but an accident which happened to Darius Gross, one of the number, broke up the anticipated sport. It seems that he fell from a pile of lumber as they were preparing to go on the pond, and striking on a log received very severe injuries.

FINE CATTLE Elijah Smith of this city sold yesterday eight oxen, of an average girth of eight feet, to Mr. Daggett for $1300 The cattle went down river to the granite quarries.

Sanford Chick, of Plymouth, brought into this city Saturday a pair of steers, two years old, that weighed when killed 2000 pounds. Rice & Leathers had one and G. I. Brown the other.

THE COMING STATE FAIR. The Trustees of the Maine State Agricultural Society met at the Penobscot Exchange last evening and had under consideration the question of holding a fair this fall which they decided in the affirmative. Although a great deal has been said about the place in which the coming fair will be held, the Trustees have not yet determined and will see what the prospect is for holding it in this city. We understand that wherever it may be held this fall it will also be held next season and it is expected that the New England Fair will at that time be held in connection with it.

THE TEMPERANCE MEETING at Concert Hall last evening under the auspices of the Young Men's Crusade Club was well attended and the exercises, consisting of a declamation by Herbert Howard, singing by a quartette, Messrs. Patterson, Donigan, Wood and Pearson, and the discussion of the question "What can, and ought we do to help the cause of Temperance" passed off very satisfactorily. The discussion of the question was entered into quite spiritedly by Messrs. Hill, Donigan Reynolds, Wood, Kimball, Langley and Dunham, Mrs. Willey and Mrs. Crossman. The Club are doing their best to make the weekly meetings pleasant and profitable, and the goodly attendance on Monday evening speaks well for the efforts they put forth.

SABBATH SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY. The second anniversary of the Kingman Sabbath School occurred on Sunday and was a very pleasant affair. In the afternoon Rev. W. R. Cross of Orono delivered a very interesting address before the school and in the evening the anniversary exercises took place. From the Secretary's report it appeared that the school numbers ninety scholars, that the average attendance during the year has been sixty-six, largest number present at any one time seventy-six, smallest forty-one. The penny contributions amounted to $51. The library of the school contains 236 volumes, seventy-six of which were given by members of Rev. Dr. Field's church of this city. Three thousand papers were distributed during the year, many of which were given by members of the church above mentioned. Miss Palmer, of this city, who was present, assisted in the musical exercises, which were very fine. The school presented Mr. H. A. Loring, who has done much to make it interesting and profitable, a valuable copy of Smith's Dictionary of the Bible.

THE SOUTH HOPE ASSAULT CASE. The Rockland Globe learns the following particulars of the murderous assault at South Hope last Wednesday night, which was mentioned in our ...:—

A quarrel occurred between a young man belonging in South Union and a young man from Rockland, during which St. Clair interfered and took the part of the Union boy and was getting the best of the fight when he was approached from behind and struck a fearful blow across the right side of his cheek, felling him to the ground instantly. Mr. Martin, the landlord of the house, promptly seized the assailant but loosed his hold to attend to young St. Clair, and during the excitement the assailant escaped. St. Clair was carried into Martin's house where he remained that night and was carried to his home the next morning. His right eye is entirely closed and the cheek bone is considerably pushed to one side. The doctor expresses the opinion that his chances for recovery are about even. He wanders in his mind and can give no satisfactory statement of the case. The murderous weapon was a plank about four feet in length, six inches in width and is now at Martin's stable. One end is stained with blood. Various conjectures as to the identity of the guilty party are given, but they point to nothing definite. Doubtless if St. Clair should come to a full possession of his senses he could give some light on the subject.

THE COMPLIMENTARY CONCERT, tendered to Mrs. J. A. Crowell, the accomplished soprano, occurs this evening in Norombega Hall, and judging by the rapid sale of tickets it will be largely attended. With the array of talent shown in the programme following there is no doubt that the concert will prove one of the finest musical events of the season. A special train will be run to Oldtown and intermediate points after the concert to accommodate persons in that section desiring to attend. Following is the

DECISIONS IN LAW.

The following cases at law have been decided by the Full Court and transmitted to the Clerk of Courts:—

PENOBSCOT COUNTY.

Amos Rines in equity vs. Luky A. Batchelder et al. "Bill sustained, Master to be appointed; decree for conveyance to be ultimately made in conformity herewith."

D. D Stewart. A. W. Paine.

Rescript.—The heirs of a person who received a conveyance of real estate at the request of the party who paid out of his own money and means the consideration of such conveyance, are liable in equity to be required to convey the property to such party, even though they may since the commencement of the process to compel such conveyance, have sold and conveyed to some one else.

The who buys "pendente lite," takes conveyance which is liable to be avoided by the decree in the pending suit, and it is not necessary that he should be made a party to it.

If such purchaser has erected buildings upon the land before he took his deed, with the consent of the party holding the legal title, he will be entitled to a reasonable time to remove them as his own personal property. They do not, under such circumstances, become the property of the cestui que trust.

Heirs who are thus called upon, on the ground of a resulting trust, to convey property of which their ancestor held the legal title, ought to be furnished with proof of the validity of the claim, beyond the mere assertion of the party who sets it up, sufficient to satisfy reasonable minds.

In the absence of such proof, and when considerable time elapses before the commencement of a suit to enforce the claim of the cestui que trust, if they, believing in good faith that the property is theirs free of any trust, make valuable improvements thereon, they will be entitled to be reimbursed by the cestui que trust for the increase in value by reason of such improvements, and to the cost of all necessary repairs to prevent waste, and will be subjected to no costs, unless, by a captious and unreasonable defence, they make needless cost for the plaintiff. (Barrows, J.)

WASHINGTON COUNTY.

Daniel K. Chase vs. Michael Silverstone. On report. "Judgment for defendant."

McNichol. Grangers.

Rescript.—The defendant having dug his well on his own land in good faith, for the obtaining of water for his own domestic uses, is not liable for any damage which incidentally resulted to the plaintiff by reason of thereby diverting the water which had been accustomed to percolate or flow in an unknown subterranean current into the plaintiff's spring. (Virgin, J.)

HANCOCK COUNTY.

Alexander B. Swett vs. Wm. T. Hooper. On exceptions by defendant. "Exceptions overruled."

Abbott. Wiswell.

Rescript.—Where the holder of a note, given for spirituous liquors, shows that he purchased the same for value, in due course of business and under circumstances not calculated to awaken suspicion, it will be presumed that he had no notice of the illegality till the contrary is shown.

A demand is not necessary to enable the holder of a note, payable on a certain time, to recover interest thereon from the maturity thereof, although it is not upon interest before that time. (Peters, J.)

NEW MUSIC.

We have received from White, Smith & Perry the song "While o'er the Sea," a very pleasing bass song, the words of which were written by Mr G. D. Stanford, and the music by Mr. J. H. Milliken—both connected with the Western Union Telegraph office in Boston.

Louis Meyer & Co., Philadelphia, send us a serenade, "Sleep, Dearest, Sleep," words by Amelia Edwards and music by F. A. Knight, —a charming composition.

The college papers published in the Michigan University by male students, speaks of the feminine undergraduates in the following complimentary way: "They pertinaciously keep their health and strength in a way that is aggravating, and they persist in evincing an ability for close and continued mental labor which, to the ordinary estimator of woman's brain power, seems like pure wilfulness."

MAINE MEDICAL SCHOOL.

THE GRADUATES THIS YEAR.

The last session of the Maine Medical School located at Brunswick closed June 6th, after a very interesting and profitable term of sixteen weeks. The school seems to have entered upon a new life, as shown by the increase in numbers and proficiency of its students. Much praise is due to the faculty for their untiring efforts to raise the rank of scholarship, and though they did raise the grade for the degree of M. D., many easily passed the required examination. The graduating exercises took place Saturday afternoon, when Prof. Palmer gave the valedictory, doing much credit to himself and the profession. Degrees were conferred on the following:—

L. G. Anthoine,	Thesis	True Croup.
F. A. Bickford,	"	Apoplexy.
S. T. Brown,	"	Scarlatina.
R. Curtis,	"	Intestinal Inflammation.
G. H. Emerson,	"	Diabetis Mellitus.
R. B. Forbes,	"	Pertussis.
F. L. Gardner,	"	Dyspepsia.
A. L. Gaubert,	"	Extension in Treatment of Fractures of Long Bones.
I. W. Gilbert,	"	Erysipelas.
P. Hall,	"	Variola.
R. E. Holt,	"	Typhoid fever.
S. C. Knight,	"	Dislocations of Shoulder.
C. F. Leslie,	"	Scarlatina.
G. H. Sanborn,	"	Variola
N. H. Scott,	"	Lobar Pneumonia.
A. F. Stinson,	"	Diptheria.
A. M. Thompson.	"	Typhoid Fever.
J. Utley,	"	Sporadic Dysentery
A. Woodside, A. M.,	"	Auscultation
W. M. Wright, A. B.,	"	Non Nigligenda.
C. E. Young,	"	Eclampsia.

After the diplomas were presented by President Chamberlain, the class formed an organization with choice of A. Woodside, President, G. H. Emerson, Vice-President, and R. Holt, Secretary.

THE LUNGS.

Irritation of the Lungs, Pains in the Chest, Asthmatic and Catarrhal Symptoms and Colds and Chills,

Immediately relieved in their first stages by single dose of that elegantly flavored and effective compound,

SANFORD'S JAMAICA GINGER.

Search the whole catalogue of the Materia Medica and you will find nothing so admirably adapted to loosening and breaking up a cold that has settled on the Lungs It has saved thousands from chronic ailments which would invariably result from a neglected Cold. Look to

YOUR LUNGS

Above all things. Keep by you against the time of need this great preventive of disease. It is so pleasantly flavored as to be eagerly taken, and has completely routed, wherever known, the old-fashioned remedies, such as Composition, Hot Drops, Thoroughwort Tea and like disagreeable mixtures. Not less valuable is this remedy in

DYSPEPSIA,

Flatulency, Rising of Food, Oppression after Eating Pains in the Stomach and Bowels, Chronic Diarrhœa, and diseases of the Bowels.

HEALTHY DIGESTION

and improved appetite follow its use. Make but a single trial of this most elegant, effective, and safe family medicine. It is not a preparation of doubtful ingredients, but one whose composition and character is known to physicians. Its great success where other preparations have failed is owing to the superior mode of preparation adopted by the proprietors. Thousands regard it as one of the greatest, if not the greatest, medical compound of this century, simply because it has saved them from distressing sickness and averted serious diseases.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS.

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 State Street, opposite Kilby St., Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all papers for Patents executed on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

All Diseases of the Blood.

If VEGETINE will relieve pain, cleanse, purify and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can truly be called the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. The great source of disease originates in the blood; and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention

LIFE A BURDEN

BOSTON, Nov 2 187...

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.

Dear Sir—From a poor, emaciated sufferer, the Vegetine has restored me to perfect health.

I have for years been a terrible sufferer from Canker and Dyspepsia, at times rendering life almost a burden to me. I am now fifteen (15) pounds heavier than when I commenced the use of Vegetine.

I will make mention that I was also a great sufferer from Kidney Complaint, causing ... pain through the small of the back nearly all the time. This, too, Vegetine has cured and I am now a perfect picture of health, and I will add, happiness—all caused from the use of a few bottles of Vegetine.

Respectfully, H. G. HUGES, 1 Union place, Boston, Mass.

VEGETINE is composed of Roots, Barks and Herbs. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it.

BIRDS BY MY WINDOW

BY EDWARD RUSSELL

A [illegible]

Sweet birds that by my window sing [illegible]
[illegible] all your carolling
While I write my darling

She's far from me away, away,
Where the hills beyond the bay,
But still my heart goes night and day
To meet and greet my darling

Brown wren from out whose swelling throat
[illegible] joys in music float,
[illegible] to me thy own June note,
To warble to my darling

Sweet love thy tender, love-lorn cry
[illegible] through
[illegible] gentle voice [illegible]
And I shall win my darling

Lark ever leal to dawn of day,
[illegible] winged thy skyward way—
[illegible] of a quivering lay,
The anthem for my darling

[illegible] as leafy June,
[illegible] tune,
[illegible] matchless tune,
To woo a [illegible] own darling

[illegible] your praises sung shall stir
[illegible] chords of love [illegible]
[illegible] be our messenger
When woo [illegible] darling

[illegible] crown of spring,
[illegible] swift [illegible] wing,
[illegible] arrow that shall bring
[illegible] greeting to my darling

Sheriff's Sale.

Taken in execution, and will be sold at public auction, on WEDNESDAY, the fifteenth day of July, 1874, at two o'clock in the afternoon, at the law office of [illegible] Varney, in Bangor in said county, all the right in equity which William H. [illegible] of Newburgh, has or had, on the twentieth day of December, 1872, being the time of the attachment on the original writ in this action, to redeem the following described mortgaged real estate, to wit: a certain piece of land situated in said Newburgh, with the buildings thereon situated, bounded and described as follows, viz: on the west by land of Thomas King, on the north by [illegible] line, on the east by land occupied by Chas. Folsom, on the south by the north county road in said Newburgh, containing forty (40) acres, more or less. Also another piece of land situated in Carmel in said county, and bounded on the south by the land of John [illegible], on the east by the Springer lot, so called, on the south by the north Newburgh line and on the west by the land of Thomas King, containing thirty (30) acres, more or less; being all and the same premises conveyed to Henry A. Nason, by Albert U. Nason, by deed dated July 31st, 1871 and subject to a mortgage to Albert U. Nason for two hundred and thirty five dollars ($235) recorded in Penobscot Registry of Deeds, vol 4[illegible], page 435, to which reference may be had, and to Calvin Whiting, for one hundred and fifty dollars ($150).

Also another piece of land situated in said Newburgh, bounded and described as follows: beginning on the east line of land owned by Henry Shaw, one hundred and ten and one-third (110⅓) rods, a little of Carmel line at a stake and stones, thence northerly in said line to the town line, thence easterly on said town line to land occupied by Chas. H. Folsom, thence easterly to said Shaw's land and place of beginning, containing forty (40) acres more or less, being the same land conveyed to Henry A. Moore by Chas H. Folsom, by deed dated November 20th, 1871, recorded in Penobscot Registry of Deeds, vol. 418 page 4[illegible] and subject to a mortgage given by the said William N. [illegible] to Henry A. Moor, by deed dated August 12th, 1872, recorded in Penobscot Registry of Deeds, vol. 423 page 269 to which reference may be had, to secure the payment of three certain notes of hand, amounting, in all, to two hundred and seven dollars ($207). The above described premises conveyed to the said William N. Baker by Henry A. Moor, by deed dated August 12th 1872, recorded in Penobscot Registry of Deeds, vol 4[illegible] page 1[illegible], to which reference is given.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot.

The undersigned administrator of the estate of Eunice [illegible] late of Dexter in said county, deceased, respectfully represents that the goods and chattels rights and credits of said deceased are not sufficient to pay her just debts and charges of administration

Wherefore your petitioner prays your Honor to grant him a license to sell at public or private sale, and convey the interest of the late Eunice L. Meserve, situate in Dexter, Penobscot County meaning the whole of the same premises, the said Administrator represents that the residue would be greatly depreciated by a partial sale of any of said portion that a portion of it will certainly be needed to satisfy said debts expenses of sale and charges of administration.

Said real estate is the same described in a deed recorded in the Registry of Deeds of said County, vol. 3[illegible] page 1[illegible].

TREATY between the United States of America and the Republic of Ecuador. Extradition. Concluded June 28, 1872. Ratification advised by Senate January 6, 1873. Ratified by President January 10, 1873. Ratified by President of Ecuador November 12, 1873. Ratifications exchanged at Quito November 12, 1873. Proclaimed December 24 1873.

By the President of the United States of America

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, a treaty for the mutual extradition of criminals, fugitives from justice, between the United States of America and the Republic of Ecuador, was concluded and signed by their respective Plenipotentiaries at Quito on the twenty-eight day of June eighteen hundred and seventy-two, which treaty, being in the English and Spanish languages, is word for word as follows:

Extradition treaty between the United States of America and the Republic of Ecuador.

The United States of America and the Republic of Ecuador, having deemed it conducive to the better administration of justice and the prevention of crime within their respective territories that all persons convicted of or accused of the crimes enumerated below, being fugitives from justice, shall be, under certain circumstances, reciprocally delivered up, have resolved to conclude a treaty upon this subject, and the President of the United States has for this purpose named Rumsey Wing, a citizen of the United States, and their Minister-Resident in Ecuador, as Plenipotentiary on the part of the United States, and the President of Ecuador has named Francisco Javier Leon, Minister of the Interior and of Foreign Affairs, as Plenipotentiary on the part of Ecuador, who, having reciprocally communicated their full powers, and the same having been found in good and due form, have agreed upon the following articles, viz:

ARTICLE 1.

The Government of the United States and the Government of Ecuador mutually agree to deliver up such persons as may have been convicted of or may be accused of the crimes set forth in the following article, committed within the jurisdiction of one of the contracting parties and who may have sought refuge or be found within the territory of the other; it being understood that this is only to be done when the criminality shall be proved in such manner that, according to the laws of the country where the fugitive or accused may be found, such persons might be lawfully arrested and tried, had the crime been committed within its jurisdiction.

ARTICLE 2.

Persons convicted of or accused of any of the following crimes shall be delivered up, in accordance with the provisions of this treaty:

1st. Murder, including assassination, parricide, infanticide, and poisoning.

2d. [illegible] piracy, and mutiny on ship board, when the crew, or a part thereof, by fraud or violence against the commander have taken possession of the vessel.

3d. The crime of burglary, this being understood as the action of breaking and entering by night into another's house, with the intent to commit felony, [illegible]
